TECHNOLOGY HIGH SCHOOL

On The Road to Our Graduation

By: Onelia J. Rivera

It seems like only yesterday we started our high school years at Technology. Now, the time has come to reflect upon these, "most incredible", four years of our lives. These are the years of youth and happiness, which we will always be treasured in our hearts.

The first day was unforgettable! It was a mixture of utter fear and anticipation all rolled into one. We did not know what to expect, yet we were excited to be here. We began to get to know each other, and the most wonderful of things happened: many different people from many different backgrounds came together to form the everlasting bond of friendship!

Today, we say "farewell" to our friends, who have become our family; to Technology High, which has become a second home to us; and to the many teachers who have touched our lives forever. We want to extend a special "thank you" to everyone who has shared our good times and bad times; thank you to those who have helped us become who we are, and thank you all for being who you are.

Mission Statement

Our school is committed to a threefold mission of providing a college preparatory program for students who desire to further their formal education, a workplace readiness experience for students interested in pursuing careers in technology, and a school-to-career program for students who will pursue their formal education and career path concurrently.

Our Building's History

In our exploration into the history of Technology High School we discovered that the construction of the school, which was built on the former site of the Kearny Homestead, began in December 1911. This school opened September 16, 1913. The school, which was then known as the Newark Normal School, costed $275,000, an extraordinary amount of money for the time. Ernest F. Guilbert of the Board of Education was the supervising architect. Herman C. Schneider Building & Construction Company, a Newark firm, built the structure.

The school has undergone many name changes. It was first called the Newark Normal School; then, in 1913, it became the New Jersey State Normal School in Newark; and in 1937, The New Jersey Teachers College at Newark. It was also used as the Newark Skills Center. In 1972, a new building was funded by the U. S. Department of Education and the State of New Jersey. The building was known as COED (Center for Occupational Education Experimentation & Development). In September 1974, the building was staffed and its first director, Vincent Russomanno, was appointed.

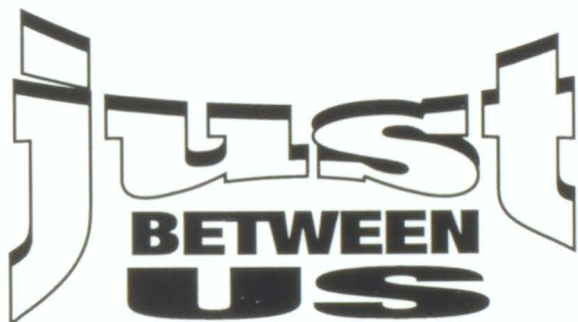

The old building (now Technology High School) was also home to Arts High School during its rebuilding phase. In September 1996, Technology High School, Newark's newest magnet school, opened its doors. Dr. Steven Kramer was its first principal. At Technology High School, we place the emphasis on excellence in the areas of academic and technological training.

Mona Dana, Principal

Congratulations to the class of 2001, our first class of the new millennium. It has been a pleasure working with you. I sincerely hope you will each find happiness and success in your future.

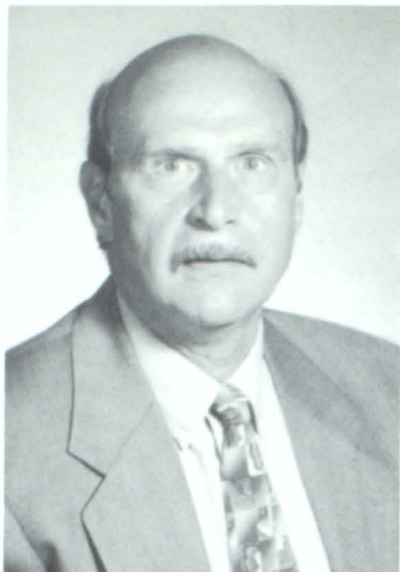

Dear Graduates:

Congratulations to the graduating class of 2001! Even though I have only been your principal since September, I feel a great sense of pride about your accomplishments. You have conducted yourselves with distinction and have shown a great deal of integrity. You have continued the tradition of establishing high standards for yourselves as well as the future classes. Your progress over the last year has been noteworthy.

It is my sincere wish that you never forget the pride that you brought to our school, to yourself, and your family! Good luck and may all of your dreams come true!

Good Bye to the Class of 2001

Well, Well, Well, YOU MADE IT !

I have to admit, as much as I hate to, I will miss all of you. Yes, I will miss even the students that I did not have in class. Yes, I will miss the students knocking on my door to say good morning, good bye and see you later. I will miss the hats, the walkmen, the curses. I will miss the hugs. I will miss the tears. I will miss the laughing, the jokes, the tears. I will wonder if you will remember the bodyslammed cockroaches, the pictures of you cutting out the back door, the fart cup. The crazy drives, my car-go-nah, the Fight Club, my crazy cart, the running around. I wonder if you will remember the times you forgot your homework and made me think you did it. I wonder if you will remember teachers being "short on cash".

I can't write all the memories, and I can't single any one of you out. You all hold a special place in my heart and memory. Those of you that need me know that I will always be there for you forever. Those of you who don't, I will be there for you always.

Thank you for making me a teacher. Thank you for letting me know that each and every day, I did something good for someone, thanks for telling me when my socks didn't match...when I needed a haircut, when my shoes were beat up, when my jokes were dry, my arms ashy. Basically, all I can say is thanking you for accepting these crazy white boy into your lives. You will always be mine. - Mr. Iovino

Mr. Iovino/Mrs. Izzolino

I wish all of you the best of luck in all you do. Go with fond memories of your time spent here. Remember always to show the world your knowledge and love for life and strive to succeed in all you do. Do not go gently into good night - Mrs. Izzolino

Who can you really call a friend from 9th Grade, now? I've seen you grow from my adorable forehead to my girl, who I call to help me with relationship problems. Even though we went through different stages of our feelings towards each other, it's stronger now than ever that I realized I love you. You know words can't express how I feel. I hope this give you an idea.
